RAMSEY — The 63rd senior class of Ramsey High School was graduated last night on the school's front lawn.

The 263 graduates, 41 of whom were in the National Honor Society, heard Supt. of Schools Noble C. Hiebert tell them to acquire enough discipline for self-regulation and evaluation. Individual members of the class were praised by high school principal John W. Mitchell.

Addresses were also given by the class salutatorian, Jonathan Scott, and valedictorians Jeanne Lorey and Kevin Cassidy. The three spoke on American education in transition.

Miss Scott praised independent study programs and individualized education, and Cassidy termed the class the school's best-educated graduates. Miss Lorey said American mass education is stultifying, and boring, and too discipline oriented.

The graduates are:
